

2018 Sport Summit: Why are we failing our children?

In association with Howden

9:00	Registration opens
10:00	Welcome Andrew Moss , Chairman	This one-day Sport Summit will bring together government and the sector to discuss how we can work better together using our new research as the foundation.
10:10 – 11:30	End of term report: Are our children active enough?	This panel discussion will be reviewing how the system to help support children and young people to get active has been operating over the recent years. We will be sharing our detailed research into this area and our recommendations on how we feel that the current system could do better. Panel: Iain Lindsey, Associate Professor in Sport Policy and Development, Durham University James Allen, Director of Policy, Governance & External Affairs Emma Boggis, Chair Verity Postlethwaite, PhD Candidate, University of Worcester
11:30 – 12:00	Morning networking break
12:00 – 13:00	What can we learn from others?	Finland and Netherlands have some of the same issues as the UK when it comes to getting their children and young people active. Ville Turkka and Berna Nijboer will explain how Finland and Netherlands is tackling the issue
13:00 – 14:00	Lunch & Networking
14:00 – 15:00	What could a new system look like?	This panel discussion will tease out what the UK can do – inside and outside of traditional sport and recreation, in and out of schools, to get children and young people active. Panel: Dr Rosena Allin-Khan, MP, Shadow Minister for Sport James Allen, Director of Policy, Governance & External Affairs Emma Boggis, Chair John Herriman, Chief Executive Officer, Greenhouse Sports Gerry Newton-Cross, Director of Strategy and Sustainability, Youth Sport Trust Sue Wilkinson, Chief Executive Officer, Association for Physical Education This interactive session is your opportunity to pose questions and offer solutions on how we can make sure that collectively we can stop failing our children.
15:00 – 15:20	Putting children and young people at the heart of the system	If the system is broken and we are failing to get our children and young people active – then we need to listen to what type of system would work for them. An on-stage discussion with a few Generation Z interviewees.
15:20 -16:20	SPORT Talks	We are proud of the work that our members and the wider sector do to help young people to get and stay active and to feel the huge social, health, emotional and economic benefits of being engaged in sport and recreation. Our sporty versions

		of a TED Talk will highlight four projects that are actively getting our children and young people active. Fit and Fed Programme 3 Pillars Project Bristol Sport Foundation
16:20 – 16:30	Wrap up and launch of #RightToBeActive	We will be launching our new campaign to get our children and young people active. We can't let another 40 years go by as too much is at stake.

In association with

